An epigram recorded by the important intellectual Patriarch Pholius I of Constantinople expressed its purpose:It has the following not ungraceful epigram: Draw your knowledge of the past from me and read the ancient tales of learned lore. Look neither at the page of Homer, nor of elegy, nor tragic muse, nor epic strain. Seek not the vaunted verse of the cyci but look in me and you will find in me all that the world contains'.The brief and unadorned accounts of myth in the Bibliotheca have led some commentators to suggest that even its complete sections are an epitome of a lost work.

A General Introduction sets the Library and Fabulae into the wider context of ancient mythology; introductions to each text discuss in greater detail issues of authorship, aim, and influence.
